Charging the grand jurors to seek diligently into the finding of the decomposed body of J. C. Nance, West Texas farmer, seven miles north of Corsicana, late last month and sparing no means at their command summoning all witnesses relative to the case, and ascertaining the identity of the person or persons guilty of the death of Nance in addition to the other violations of the law including prohibition, gambling, forgery, murder, conducting of "Bawdy" houses, theft and other violations, Hawkin Scarborough, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District formally opened the October Term of court Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The grand jury this term will be composed of Wm. Conner, Corsicana, foreman; Joe B. Fortson, Corsicana; S. E. Babers, Corsicana; S. H. Butler, Corsicana; J. M. Kerr, Corsicana; J. W. Edens, Corsicana; C. C. Stevenson, Frost; C. L. Boswell, Blooming Grove; H. A. Barnett, Kereens; E. H. Gray, Kereens; L. M. Seale, Powell; J. D. Murphy, Currie.

J. W. Edens of Corsicana was elected secretary of the jury.

The following bailiffs were appointed by the jury:

Door bailiff, W. T. McFadden, Corsicana.

Riding bailiffs, Mose Weils, R. S. Lindsey and R. M. Albright, Corsicana; Charley V. McCord, Frost; John Phelps, Barry; George Jones, Dawson; George Watson, Richland; W. S. Bell, Eureka; A. H. Holloway, Kereens; R. A. Edens and J. A. Pollan, Rice.

It was intimated that the grand jury would be very busy during the first week or ten days of the term due largely to the fact that there was not a grand jury in session during the July Term of court this summer.

The Court advised the investigating body that it should work diligently into the violation of the prohibition laws and that the violators of this law should be indicted. Judge Scarborough stated that the liquor situation in Navarro County was as good as the average county of Texas but that the condition was not satisfactory. He stated that in the investigation of "crock beer" cases, it was necessary for the beer to be analyzed to prove its content of alcohol.

Go After Big Game.

Referring to the statute relative to gaming, he stated that the law was intended for the gamblers who conducted gaming houses and played for big stakes. The court advised the grand jury that the county attorney, justices of the peace and constables could attend to the negro "crap" games in which there were small stakes.

The investigation of "bawdy" houses both in Corsicana and outside was called to the attention of the investigators.

Murder, rape, burglary, forgery, theft and other violations of the law were called to the attention of the grand jury. The court stated that he did not have any patience with a person who did not want to enforce the law because he happened not to like a particular law and he stated that it was the duty of the citizens to see that the laws are enforced.

Told Probe Nance Murder.

Turning to the reference to finding of the decomposed body of J. C. Nance late in September near Carl's Switch, seven miles north of Corsicana, Judge Scarborough ordered the grand jury to go to the full length to get the guilty parties. He stated that the deed apparently was without justification and advised the investigators to get all evidence which is necessary as the evidence must be circumstantial. The guilty party is still at large. All witnesses will be called. He stressed the importance of getting every particle of evidence to present a case.

Another thing called to the jurors' attention was the fact that in the grand jury room, only one side of a question was presented and advised the jurors that in the event they would not vote to send a man to the penitentiary, they should not vote a bill of indictment as in the trial both sides would be presented and a different aspect would in many cases be presented.

The investigating body was warned by the Court to keep the proceedings of the grand jury to themselves and refrain from diluting what was going on in the grand jury room. He stated that no one had any right to know what was going on in the grand jury room. Another thing stated to the jury was to not allow persons to discuss pending investigations on the streets with the grand jurors but allow them to appear before the jury in the event that they desired.

The jury retired to the grand jury quarters and began its deliberations and investigations.

BANDITS ROBBED MISSIONARIES AND CARRIED AWAY THREE

By Associated Press.

Hankow, China, Oct. 4.—Bandits yesterday attacked a large party of missionaries going to stations at Sheneccowu, Hunan province, and robbed and carried off three Americans. The Americans are Miss Miuerva S. Well, reformed Mission; Miss Lydia Koebbe, Evangelical Mission and Karl H. Beck, Reformed Mission.

Seven other missionaries who escaped are safe at Taquan Tayu. They included Miss C. Bunnemann and Miss J. Graner, both American.

Lester Bolton, aged 30, died Saturday night and Ben Long, aged 23, died Sunday afternoon from gunshot wounds sustained in the shooting Saturday afternoon in the crowded midway of the fair.

Long and Bolton, farmers living near Groesbeck, were attending the fair, when the shooting occurred. According to information gathered by Scott Reed, county attorney, Long and Bolton were in the midway of the carnival section of the fair when the shooting occurred. A 12-gauge shotgun is said to have been used in the shooting.

Long was shot in the abdomen and in the wrist. Bolton was shot in the leg and suffered severely from loss of blood before help reached him. Officers stationed at the fair took the young Butler into custody.

Butler resides with his grandfather, Joshua Wood, of Groesbeck. The youth is said by Long to have had some trouble with a brother of Long, and it was while discussing this that the shooting occurred. Long admitted hitting Butler in the affray.

Hundreds of people were crowded into the carnival section of the fair when the shooting took place and jammed the section when the first shot was fired. So far as reports to police show no bystanders were injured in the shooting, although there were large crowds present.

J. GEORGE LOOS
CARNIVAL HERE
ALL NEXT WEEK

A. M. Brauer, advance man for the J. George Loos Carnival Show, was in Corsicana Monday and closed a contract with the Corsicana Baseball Association whereby this carnival will show in this city for one week, starting Monday, Oct. 11. The carnival grounds will be located near the ball park.

The J. George Loos shows are well known here, having played this city a number of times.

The carnival is bigger and better than ever this year, carrying a large number of high class attractions and other features and rides, it is stated by Mr. Brauer.

The Senate recommitted to the judicial district committee Moore's Senate Bill 239, reorganizing the state into twelve Supreme Judicial Districts for courts of Civil Appeals, the twelfth court to be located at Greenville.

House Orders Another Probe.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—By a margin of 32 to 18, the House Monday passed the resolution by Senator Pollard calling for an investigation of the administrative policies governing Texas University.

Three Representatives and two Senators will compose the committee, which is instructed specifically to investigate the hiring of attorneys by the Regents, alleged exorbitant fees, the squabble over the abandonment of "B" Hall as a campus dormitory, and the regulation which provides a student may not appear before the Regents without consent of the President.

The University, to avoid duplication of effort, will be excluded from the attention of a House committee of five, appointment of which to investigate all institutions of higher learning was authorized last week.

Speaker Satterwhite appointed Representatives Graves, Webb and Pope to investigate conditions at John Tarleton Junior Agricultural College, Stephenville.

IN SESSION AGAIN

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The Supreme Court convened today for its new term, confronted with a docket presenting some of the most important questions ever to come before it.

There were no opinions delivered,

but a volume of motions poured in,

including 191 petitions asking the court to grant reviews.

Oral arguments were ordered on several cases, including that brought by George W. Bryant, convicted at Buffalo, N. Y., for failing to file a sworn statement concerning the Ku Klux Klan as required under the Walker Law. Should this be passed today the appeal of Edward L. Doheny involving the legality of the naval oil leases would be reached for a re-argument.

The party had paid $153 for the services of thirty armed soldiers of the Changteh guard but when the bandits appeared the soldiers fled.

PROPOSITION STILL HOLDS.

Sometime in the distant past the Corsicana Daily Sun and the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light made a proposition in an effort to secure a permanent fair plant for Navarro county. The proposition was that these two papers would give $5,000 toward the building of the first $50,000 unit of a $100,000 fair plant provided nine other individuals or firms would give $5,000 each.

Recently the question has been asked if the proposition is still open.

Yes—the Sun and Light's proposition still holds good as made these many months ago, but so far the other nine have failed to make their appearance.

A fair is of untold value to any community. It creates a spirit of keen, but friendly competition and draws the county together in that neighborly way otherwise unobtainable. A spirit of co-operation always follows that results in the building of a greater and more prosperous county.

Navarro county needs a permanent county fair plant.

WHAT AND WHERE IS THE MASON AND DIXON LINE.

The development of the Southern states is now attracting the attention of the world. Much is being said and written about the South, and incidentally, the Mason and Dixon line is often mentioned.

The term is familiar to all of us, states the Mentor, but when we come to define it few of us know what it was the boundary.

When America was settled the geographical knowledge of this country was limited, therefore the maps were imperfect, but this did not hinder the kings of England from prodigally granting tracts of land in the New World without any definite idea of their extent. Because of this royal disregard of facts it took over a hundred years for some of the colonies to settle their boundary disputes—and the fortieth degree north latitude furnished the prize contention.

Cecilus Calvert, Lord Baltimore, had been granted all territory extending under the fortieth degree north latitude, "where New England terminates." Later a tract of land was given to William Penn, the southern boundary of which was to be a "circle drawn at twelve miles distant from New Castle northward and westward unto the beginning of the fortieth degree of north latitude."

Now a degree of latitude, instead of being a straight line without width, is really a band of some sixty miles in width, so that the determination of a degree will change the boundary of a state and transfer an immense amount of territory.

It was the determination of this degree of latitude that gave rise to all the trouble that followed. Various nationalities, men of all ranks and degrees, as well as religious beliefs, were embroiled in the controversy, and the contested ground became the scene of invasion, riot and even murder.

Out of this turmoil arose the Mason and Dixon line. It started as a tangible boundary between two provinces, but eventually became an intangible division, both of ideas and politics between the inhabitants of two states, and finally of two portions of the United States, until its "geographical location became lost in its political significance and men cared little when they referred to it, where it ran or what was its history."

Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon were brought over from England to survey the boundary of the provinces in 1763. They began their survey in December of that year and ended their work about Christmas time four years later. The survey cost fully $75,000. How will see oil development in this much more was spent in lawyers' fees, the gathering of testimony, prosecution of trespassers, and worry will never be known.

Mason and Dixon first ran the peninsular line dividing Maryland and Delaware; then the peculiar circular boundary with a radius of twelve miles, using New Castle, Delaware, as the center; after which they began the western line that bears their name.

They cut swaths twenty-four feet wide through the wilderness, surveying in the night by means of the stars. At the end of every mile they erected markers twelve inches square and four and one-half feet in height, of oolite limestone, imported from England; on the southern side of each was cut the letter "M" (Maryland) and on the northern side the letter "P" (Pennsylvania). Every fifth stone was a "crown stone," so termed because it bore the coat of arms of the respective proprietors.

"BREAD AND WATER."

The self-imposed diet of bread and water which Judge Bryant, of Cedar county, Iowa, is trying out to see if it comes under the head of cruel and unusual punishments as prohibited by the Constitution is at least inducing to a philosophic state of mind in the 75-year-old jurist. The Hawkeye judge says he has been applying this form of punishment for the last fourteen years, varying the term from three to ten days. The sentence has been attacked, and his reply is to try it on himself to see how it goes.

In the middle of his term, the jurist reached the conclusion that it ought to be administered only in "severe cases." He says that in the night he dreams that he is sitting before a feast and awakes to find rye bread and water. Also he thinks the bread ought to be changed from one kind to another—first rye, then wheat and perhaps other varieties of flour content.

All of which, no doubt, would make such eminent fasters as Lady Fisher laugh. Five days is the length of the judge's fast, and five days with a consolation of bread and water can hardly be called a fast at all. Britshers who are turning to Lady Fisher's program find that it takes about two weeks to get well settled to the raimless fast. Another week or so is required for the all-round physical adjustments. After the fast is ready to start and may run to thirty, forty, fifty days or more, according to individual preference. This long-term fasting is aimed at rejuvenation. The novelty in Judge Bryant's scheme is that abstinence is also a moral corrective. "I believe it will bring home to the prisoner," he says, "what it means to violate the law."

KNOW TEXAS.

Seventy per cent of the world's sulphur is produced in Texas.

Texas has more than 20,000 oil wells in seventy-five counties, producing in excess of half a million barrels of petroleum a day. Navarro county alone has three producing fields with a combined production of approximately 40,000 barrels a day. At one time the Corsicana-Powell field had a peak daily production in excess of 350,000 barrels.

There are 946 square miles of workable iron ore in nineteen Tex- as counties.

Texas natural gas fields have potential capacity of thirty-eight billion cubic feet of which 154,000 cubic feet a day is being used.

In 1925 Texas produced $600,000 worth of silver—an industry but few people knew exists in Texas.

Texas leads all states in cotton, livestock, wool, mohair, rice and a number of lesser commodities.

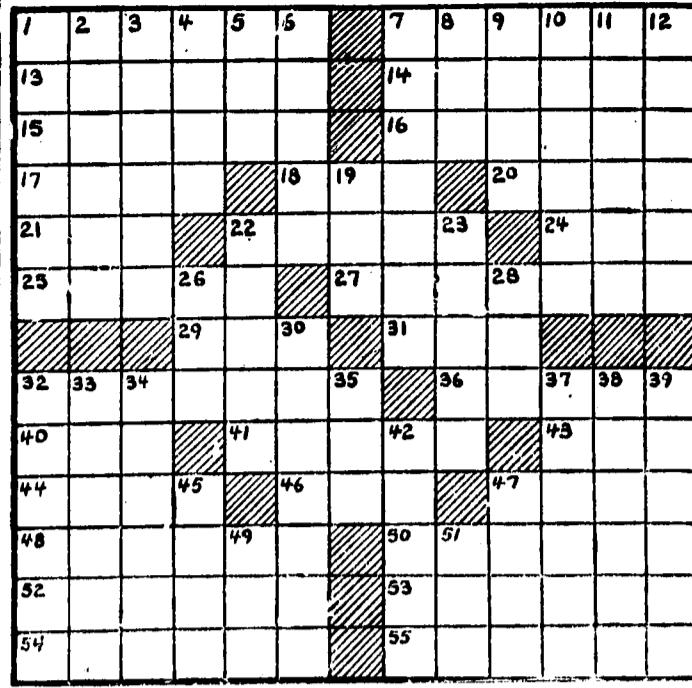

Before many years have passed Texas will not only be the largest state in the Union but the most wealthy and most thickly populated. The people of the world have just begun to realize the vast possibilities of the Lone Star State.

For those who can read the signs indications are that oil activities in Navarro county will take on new life before many months have passed. It is the opinion of many operators that the real big production has not yet been uncovered in this section. Steady readers of the court house news in the Sun each day will observe a large amount of activity in tense and royal deals in which the names of many of the major companies appear. These large oil concerns usually know what they are doing when they lay "the money on the barrel head." Corsicana and Navarro county are destined to be active oil centers for many years to come and it is safe to predict that the present generation of oilmen will see oil development in this

Special to the Sun.

Mexia, Texas, Oct. 2.—W. P. Alexander, legislator from Limestone county, in a written statement to a Mexia newspaper, attacks the Senate in called session for the "deplorable condition of the rural schools."

Alexander says the Senate appropriation measure of $2,750,000 would give the schools only $12.50 per capita and adds:

"Similar tactics were resorted to in the regular session of the 39th Legislature and served to defeat the Three-cent measure, and leave the rural schools in their present deplorable condition.

"The people are entitled to know that the House is largely in favor of relieving the situation if the Senate would concur."

CIRCUS AERIALIST SAYS MIRRORS BEST FRIENDS SWAT IN SEVENTH WON BALL CONTEST

Highwire Danseuse Discloses Novel Method Devised for Practicing Act.

What would you think of an artist who has spent several weeks salary for twelve specially designed pier mirrors? Doubtless you would call such a one vain. Yet Berta Beeson, wire danseuse extraordinary with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, has done this very thing and yet is not given to vanity.

Long considered the world's foremost dancer on the high wire, Berta Beeson has achieved this reputation by reason of gracefulness as well as daring. Says the artist:

"A performer must give as much thought to the manner in which an act is presented as is given to the thing done. Like many professionals, I had long practiced before a mirror. But I was never certain that my dances performed at heights were entirely like those that I performed when practicing on the ground. Then came a happy thought. I purchased a sufficient number of big French mirrors to completely circle me. I then had my practice wire fixed so that I might watch myself in the mirrors. You have often heard it said that a looking-glass is a woman's best friend. Well, twelve mirrors are just a dozen times better. They have taught me to see myself as others see me."

Berta Beeson is one of more than 800 stars to be seen when the great double circus exhibits here Saturday, October 9. Of these, eleven are of such magnitude that all else comes to a pause for a brief moment at the conclusion of their respective acts.

A single display presents seven of the world's greatest taut and slack wire acts. These include the sensational Spanish performer, Toledo, in gigantic swings on a thread of steel; the remarkable Con Colleano, Berta Beeson, the Nelson Sisters, Maximo and the Valdo-Meers troupe.

HEAVY DAMAGE IS REPORTED FROM HIGH WATER MANY RIVERS

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4.—The death toll in the flood which swept out of Southern Kansas into Oklahoma yesterday, sending thousands of lowland residents from their homes, reached three when it became known that Oscar Brooks, a railroad foreman, was drowned yesterday while attempting to save a Rock Island bridge over the Elm Fork of the Red River, near Mangum, Okla.

Two deaths, one from drowning and one from fire, were reported near Bartlesville, yesterday. Several were still missing today and officials were attempting to make a check.

By Associated Press. Mangum, Okla., Oct. 4.—Oscar Brooks, foreman for the Rock Island Railroad Company was drowned here yesterday while attempting to save the line's bridge over the Elm Fork of Red River.

Fifteen bents were washed out of the bridge. Brooks went down with a section and due to the swift current members of his section were unable to rescue him.

Four inches of rain fell here Saturday and Sunday during the total of 8 1/2 inches during the past six days.

A few miles west of Hobart, Big Elk and Little Creeks have met and form a stream a mile wide, inundating crops.

By Associated Press. Bartlesville, Okla., Oct. 4.—Flood waters from the Caney river that has taken a heavy damage toll of property in Bartlesville and through the fertile valleys of the river since Saturday night, began to recede this morning.

Relief agencies are caring for the refugees from the flooded district. City officials believe the city will be able to care for the flood victims without outside help. No estimate of the damage to property and livestock is available, but it is believed it will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. A check to determine whether any lives were lost in the high waters is being made. Several are reported missing both in Bartlesville and along the river.

River Stationary at Blackwell. At Blackwell the Chickasha river, which had been on a rampage since Saturday, rose steadily throughout Sunday night, and this morning appeared stationary at a level several inches lower than that of the disastrous flood there in 1923.

Residents in the lower sections of Blackwell began moving out Sunday afternoon and by midnight more than a hundred families had been driven from their homes, including twenty families on North Main street, a section affected by flood only once before in thirty years. In most cases, however, the water has not yet covered floors in the houses.

The river again has formed a junction with Bitter Creek north of Blackwell turning this farming section into a lake several miles wide.

More Rainfall Sunday. Rains fell Sunday generally in Oklahoma, but heavily in the West, along the valley of the Washita and across the course of the North Canadian. At Clinton, on the Washita, five inches fell. In the central part of the state about one and one-half inches was recorded. Railroad service was severely impaired in the flooded areas. Highways in many places were impassable.

Reports from Chickasha late last night were that the Washita had risen six feet and was rising four inches a hour. At Anadarko, the rise was reported to be more rapid and water was flowing into low fields.

The crest of flood waters was not expected at Cimarron, however, before tonight. It is feared that if the river goes out of its banks there, crop damage may be heavy as bottom lands in that vicinity are extensive.

Railroad Schedule Demoralized. By Associated Press. Wichita Falls, Oct. 4.—Railway transportation through Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma was paralyzed Sunday afternoon and for a few hours was virtually at a standstill, on account of the heavy rains which resulted in washouts through this section of Texas and Oklahoma.

Three railroad bridges on the M. K. & T. in Oklahoma are out and service will not be resumed into that state for at least five or six days, local railroad officials said Monday. Washouts were also reported by the Frisco over Red River, eight miles north of Quanah.

Fort Worth and Denver trains which were delayed Sunday by the unsafe condition of the Pease River bridge near Vernon, were the only ones running Monday morning.

Bussees out of the city have not been operating for several days on account of the heavy rains. The Quanah, Atchison and Pacific has been carrying extra cars to accommodate the heavy traffic. Sunday morning the last train on this line left Quanah and has not returned on account of the bridge being washed out between Quanah and Paducah. The wagon bridge over Red river North of Quanah, is also out.

Katy Loses Bridges.

Three railroad bridges along the Katy lines into Oklahoma were washed out Sunday. The Red River bridge at Burkhardt, the Elm Fork north of Mangum and the Salt Fork bridge, west of Altus on the Wellington branch, were made impassable by the floods. Travel over that line will not be resumed for several days, Katy officials said Monday.

The Fort Worth and Denver trains to the North were running several hours behind schedule. Sunday night rains soaked a considerable portion of North Texas and apparently cooled the atmosphere from here south. Although Dallas got only .44 inches, Fort Worth, 30 miles westward, got 2.5.

Two inches fell at Gainesville and 1.50 at McKinney. Wichita Falls rainfall was .54 inches.

Light showers and cooler temperatures were felt in the Central and Southern parts of the state. Austin, cooler, no rain.

San Antonio, cloudy, and cooler, no rain.

Waco, .12 inch, cooler.

Houston, .09 inch during night, .44 since Sunday morning, cooler.

Heavy rains reported on the Wichita Valley to the end of the line at Abilene. On the Wichita-Southern the rain was also heavy and extended to Breckenridge.

Red and Pease Rivers High. By Associated Press.

Vernon, Texas, Oct. 4.—Heavy rains in this section have brought the Red River and Pease river to high levels. The slough bridge of the Frisco railroad a half mile this side of Red River has been washed out and traffic on the line has halted.

Seven bents were washed out of the highway bridge between Vernon and Fargo when Pease river went on a rampage. Crops in the lowlands along the rivers have been damaged and considerable damage to the cotton crop is reported.

Kansas Rivers on Rampage.

Kansas City, Oct. 4.—A steadily increasing volume of water surged across the Oklahoma border along a 100 mile front today as tributaries to the four larger rivers in Southeastern Kansas drained the territory which was deluged with from two to five inches of rain Sunday as a climax to unusually heavy precipitation during the week.

Hundreds of farmers occupied positions overlooking the widening torrents while the boats were used to rescue residents of towns and cities who were forced to upper floors of their homes. Police this morning reported the rescue work well organized in most places with the indications that few casualties were reported.

Readings at 6 o'clock this morning at Kansas City, Independence and Coffeyville stated that Arkansas, Caney and Verdigris rivers were rising steadily. The Neosho river was also climbing toward high water stage in Eastern Kansas. Walnut river was still rising at 8 o'clock this morning and has already driven out many residents from the low land. Crops have been swept away, the lower end of the town is covered with water and several houses have been destroyed.

Flood waters from the Walnut river and Timber creek also invaded Winfield's downtown district during the night. Many stores and business houses were flooded on North Main street and East Ninth avenue.

Caney River Receding.

By Associated Press. Bartlesville, Okla., Oct. 4.—Flood waters from the Caney river which left hundreds of persons homeless in Bartlesville and along the course of the river, were gradually receding today after having submerged many blocks of residences and business buildings.

The Red Cross, American Legion, police and civic organizations are aiding in caring for the homeless.

Hundreds of persons were left destitute by the floods, especially in the sections where the water crept into the homes, forced the dwellers to flee and either washed away furniture or ruined it.

So far as known, there have been no lives lost here, although workers have not yet had time to check up the missing. If any one drowned, the body was washed down stream.

Reports that two persons lost their lives in the flood of the Caney river here yesterday could not be verified today. Refugees at the Salvation Army citadel last night reported that Ike Ingles was drowned and the William Clark died of fright. Neither of the men could be found today and it was believed that if they lost their lives, their bodies were swept away.

Illinois Town Threatened.

By Associated Press. Beardstown, Ills., Oct. 4.—Rising waters from the Illinois river are slowly covering the main streets of this city. Many business houses have been closed. Hopes that the levee would hold have been given up, small breaks in the barricade being reported each hour.

PROBE OF CRUDE PRICE CUT ASKED PANHANDLE SCTOR.

By Associated Press.

Amarillo, Texas, Oct. 4.—Charging no reasons exist for recent price cuts in Panhandle oil, Congressman Marvin Jones today appealed to Federal and State government officials to make an investigation into local conditions.

Jones dispatched telegrams to the Federal Trade Board, Attorney General John F. Sargent and Dan Moody, attorney general of Texas, requesting that they order an immediate investigation.

Price reductions recently posted by the majority of major purchasing companies in the Panhandle are unfair to local producers, Jones said, inasmuch as the reductions did not apply to other fields.

"The situation is becoming outrageous and it is high time for both the Federal and State government to take a hand and see who is to blame, and also ascertain if there are not efforts being made to control the output of the Panhandle field," Jones said.

Dies Result of Injuries.

FOREIGNERS AMONG WOUNDED IN RIOTS FAR UNDERGROUND IN MURDER AND PILLAGE COAL MINE MONDAY

By Associated Press.

Hankook, Oct. 4.—About 500 Northern troops who attempted a sorties from the besieged city of the Rogers entry of the Roane Iron Company's coal mine was reported to have occurred this morning. Sixty miners are known to have been working at that point and no word had been received from them by noon today. A rescue party has been organized.

At the company office this afternoon three hours after the explosion, it was said the extent of the explosion had not been ascertained.

By Associated Press.

Hankook, Oct. 4.—Telegrams from authentic sources in Nanchang dated September 26, say that Sun Chuan-Fang, overlord of five eastern provinces and ruler of Kiangsi, who is fighting the Cantonese, is completely in control of the city of Nanchang and that his soldiers are invading and plundering with casualties running into the thousands.

Supplementary messages carry an appeal of the Methodist Mission in Nanchang for volunteers to assist in caring for the wounded foreigners, including Americans.

Among the wounded foreigners are John S. Littell, Edward M. Littell, the Rev. Lloyd Craggill, his wife and child, all of the American Church Missions; the Rev. W. R. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson and Dr. W. E. Libbey of the Methodist Mission.

St. Jean, De Luiz, France, Oct. 4.—Persons arriving over the border believe momentous events are pending in Spain.

The unrest in the army, they say, has spread from the artillery corps to the cavalry and engineers, and an assembly will be convened in Madrid shortly to study the situation.

CORRECTION TO BE MADE IN STATUTES STATE OF TEXAS

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 1.—Scores of mistakes in codification of the statutes, both criminal and civil, are to be rectified through the Holbrook concurrent resolution passed today by the Senate.

Senator L. D. Fairchild of Angelina county said that 172 errors had been discovered and urged passage of the resolution which provides for a committee of two lawyers from the Legislature to re-codify the statutes.

Over opposition by Senator Stuart and Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, Senate Bill 292 validating and approving leases granted for mineral development of State prison farms by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and the Board of Prison Commissioners, finally was passed.

Senator Holbrook of Galveston and Senator Fairchild said about $65,000 had been paid for the leases by the Roxana Oil Company, of Houston, and that about $100,000 had been spent drilling wells that proved to be dry.

Under suspension of rules, the Senate adopted the Bailey bill, which seeks to correct any fault found with the district road bond issues, process of defining districts, levying of taxes and the collection thereof, by the United States Supreme Court in the Archer county case.

The Senate also adopted a concurrent amendment to the Smith-Sealy Foundation bill by Holbrook, adding the University of Texas Board of Regents to the trustees, in connection with the measure which relieves the foundation and legatees of the estate of the late John Sealy of Galveston, of payment of State inheritance taxes amounting to about $700,000.

Governor Ferguson submitted a proposed change in the game laws shifting the zone from Longview to Texarkana, to Longview and Lufkin on the Louisiana boundary, in order to grant North Texas sportsmen a more just shooting on wild life.

House Proceedings.

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 1.—Employment of attorneys by Texas University Regents, instead of their relying upon the attorney general for counsel, drew the fire of Representative Grady Woodruff of Wise county in the House today.

The House killed a resolution by Williamson and others declaring all other business should be side-tracked for bond validation and that with validation accomplished it should adjourn sine die, probably not later than October 12.

The lower branch went on record as favoring monthly government cotton estimates, starting September 1, instead of semi-monthly reports, and defeated a Senate bill appointing a committee to go to Washington and protest further encroachment of the Federal Government on State rights.

Upon them by member nations.

President Coolidge was pictured as regretting that the recent Geneva advisory conference did not approve outright acceptance of the American conditions. Representative Burton informed him that an impression prevailed in Europe that the United States already had been granted too many concessions, and that American membership conditions should be more acceptable to European powers.

Leading European proponents of disarmament, Representative Burton said in commenting upon the recent Geneva conference action in convoking a General disarmament meeting next September, believed any immediate gathering on that subject would be premature.

Senator Swanson said no substantial reduction would come in Europe until the Mediterranean and English Channel problems have been settled. He added the obstacle was the fact that France, Italy and some smaller European nations, being unable to compete with Great Britain in capital ship construction, are attempting to overcome this by increasing their air craft and submarines.

By Associated Press.

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 2.—Herb Pennock held the Cardinals to three hits today with his Yankee team mates, led by Babe Ruth, battled their way to a 2 to 1 victory over the National team champions in the opening game of the world's series.

CLARENCE OUSLEY ADDRESSED BANKERS OF NAVARRO COUNTY

The Navarro County Bankers' Association went on record Thursday night, in special called meeting as unanimously endorsing in principle the action of the meeting of 100 representative bankers held in Dallas Friday, whereby 1,000,000 bales of the 1926 Texas cotton crop will be retired from the market and that every effort will be made to cut the acreage next year at least 25 per cent and pledged themselves to co-operate in every way for the success of the move.

The bankers met at the Navarro Hotel and Clarence Ousley was the principal speaker. The Association was the guess of the Corcoran bankers for dinner, which was served by the Management of the Navarro Coffee Shop. John Fortson, president of the Navarro County Bankers' Association, presided and introduced the speaker of the evening. Short talks were also made by E. M. Westbrook, First State Bank, Koenig; J. N. REVIVAL SERVICES NOW IN PROGRESS AT BAPTIST CHURCH PASTOR DOING PREACHING WITH HARPER IN CHARGE OF MUSIC

Special to the Sun: Mexia, October 4.—The autumn session of the Limestone County Singing Association will be held at Shiloh, six miles south of here, the second Sunday in October, according to an announcement recently by Tom Daugherty, president of the organization.

The gathering of the any classes of members from all over this part of the state at the semi-annual meetings of the Limestone Singing Association forms one of the largest assemblages of people that meet in this part of the State. The number some Sundays runs into several thousand.

On account of road work between Mexia and Shiloh, in which this road is being paved, those attending the Shiloh meeting from this side of the county are advised to detour by the Point Enterprise road.

Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor is doing the preaching and Paul B. Harper has charge of the singing in the revival meeting that started at the First Baptist church at the 11 o'clock service Sunday. Mrs. Paul B. Harper presides at the organ.

Services are held twice daily, 10 a. M. and 7:30 p. m. Prayer meetings are to be held at the church eve; heaven beginning at 7 o'clock and closing at 7:25.

The attendance was large at both services Sunday.

Special numbers by the choir and congregational singing were the features of the musical programs.

Rev. Mr. Williams used as his subject "A Recipe for a Revival" at both services Sunday. An appeal was directed to the members to take an active part in the meeting.

The sermon Sunday night was based on Elijah's test of Jehovah and Baal by fire. This, the minister said, brought very forcibly before the people of that day the necessity of a definite decision and he applied the lesson to present conditions and declared that definite decisions must be made for God. Choose ye this day whom you will serve was the Scriptural basis for the appeal for definite decisions for God.

The various phases of the lesson were discussed by the Rev. Mr. Williams, among them being the erection of the altar for the burning of the ox. The minister declared that part of the conditions as they exist today could be traced to fallen altars in the home and he appealed for their reconstruction.

He discussed at length the tendency of the people to desecrate the Sabbath and declared that a child of God had no right to attend fairs, baseball games and other worldly amusements on Sunday or to do anything that would bring reproach upon God.

He stated that the people of today would not be called upon to do the spectacular things that Elijah did, but he added they are called upon every day to serve Him and be living examples of His kingdom.

The sermon was concluded with a discussion of the motives of a revival.

Baptismal services were held after the regular service and three were baptized.

Two joined the church by letter following the regular service.

CARUSO'S PROTEGE SINGS FEMALE LEAD IN PRINCESS FLAVIA

Special to the Sun: Dallas, Texas, Oct. 4.—Evelyn Herbert, of the beautiful face and remarkable voice who will sing the leading feminine role in "Princess Flavia," at the Auditorium, State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 9-24 is a protege of the late Enrico Caruso, and the only artist the great singer ever "adopted" according to legend.

The story goes that the wonderful Italian heard Miss Herbert singing, while Caruso and his family occupied an apartment in the same building with the young woman. He was so impressed that he took her under his wing, supervising the ground work of her musical education.

Miss Herbert's grand operatic debut was as "Mimi" in "La Boheme," with the Chicago Civic. The following season she sang several lyric soprano roles, notably "Little Jenny" in DeKoven's "Rip Van Winkle," which experience seemed to have weaned her away from grand opera and to have given her a preference for the lighter roles.

She created the part of "The Princess" in "Flavia," for its long Broadway run, and her appearance at the State Fair in the same role will be one of the few engagements she has filled outside of New York and Chicago.

HOT CHECK ARTIST WORKED CORSICANA; ARRESTED IN MEXIA

CHECK ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN FORGED ON FEDERAL TANK COMPANY

A man and woman are in jail at Mexia on charges of having forged the name of an official of the Federal Tank Company to several checks passed in Corsicana during the past several days, culminating in an attempt to pass one of the forged instruments on the N. L. Benson & Son dry goods company here Saturday night for the sum of $25.

It also develops, Chief of Police Knight stated Monday morning, that the man is wanted in Mexia on the same charge and it is also reported that he is wanted in other Texas cities. When Chief Knight was informed of the bad checks he phoned Chief of Police J. R. Mace in Mexia to arrest the man and woman, the woman's home being in Mexia. It then developed that the man had been indicted in Limestone county under another name than the one he is now traveling under.

The man and woman went into the Benson store late Saturday and the woman picked out a dress and the man, stating that the woman was his wife, asked that a check on the Federal Tank Company be cashed. Jack Benson, knowing of the Federal Tank Company, and its complete reliability, readily consented. He later decided that the signature of A. H. Ashley was not genuine on the check and followed the couple and told the man he did not believe the check was good, and the woman immediately said they would take it up; she paying the $25 and tearing up the check. Mr. Benson told of the incident to a relative of Mr. Ashley and this man got in communication with Chief Knight, stating that R. H. Durham, barbershop proprietor, and J. Jacobs had been given like checks. The arrest of the man and woman followed Chief Knight's investigation. The couple is expected to be brought here for appearance before the grand jury, which convened Monday morning.

MEETING OF CAMP SATURDAY CHOSE ONLY ONE REPRESENTATIVE TO REUNION

Colonel J. M. Scarborough of Company B, Forest Cavalry, Alabama Regiment, left Corsicana Monday morning for Port Arthur to represent the old Confederate soldiers of Corsicana at the state reunion which will be held in Port Arthur Tuesday.

Due to insufficient funds it was decided at the quarterly meeting of the members of Camp Winkler Saturday in the Chamber of Commerce that only one delegate from Corsicana would attend the state convention. There were twenty members present Saturday, and they were unanimously in favor of Colonel Scarborough representing them.

Mrs. W. A. Hammett, Adjutant of Camp Winkler, reported a very enthusiastic meeting and a good time was enjoyed by all; each of the old soldiers relating some of his most exciting moments under fire while brief paragraphs of history about various heroes of the war was read by Mrs. Hammett.

The new members were admitted to the camp. They were: J. T. Carter of Corsicana and W. C. Ingram of Kerens. Commandant A. J. Hook presided at the meeting.

Everything is in readiness to start the drive for $25,000 to meet some pressing obligations in connection with the new railroad men's hotel which the mission has just completed.
